Which comes First?

Editorial, D.C.J.

You have to wonder. At what point do elected people change from prudent, rational individuals to the opposite end of the spectrum?

Also, a puzzle is the point at which a "budget" becomes so massive that no one purchase becomes significant because it is so small a part of a total "budget". But, the biggest wonder of all is how public people can split into Jeckel and Hyde personalities to enable them to privately manage money, yet, determinedly spend the public money "because it is there" - a great mountain.

Perhaps only a computer could sift all these questionable factors and arrive at an answer.

Perhaps only a computer could add up all the molehills to determine how many it would take to make a great mountain - a mass beside which any one of its parts pale into in significance.

Perhaps. But, if only a computer can do simple arithmetic, where does that leave Johnny?

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR

Governor King has proclaimed May, 1981 to be Home Health Care Month in the Commonwealth.

As President of the Marion Visiting Nurse Association, Inc. I would like to inform residents that the Marion VNA is a non-profit, certified provider of home health care.

The aim of the Marion VNA is to provide high quality care in the home. Our services include skilled nursing; home health aides; physical, speech, occupational therapies and social services; Well Child Conferences with the cooperation of the Women of St. Gabriel's Church, Senior Citizens' Health Counselling sessions. All of these services are provided to the residents of both towns of Marion and Rochester.

THANK YOU
MATTAPOISETT

The home improvement loan for the little guy with big ideas.

Today, the biggest ideas in home improvement are the ones that cut energy bills down to size. And save big, big money.

At Fairhaven Savings, we've got plenty of money to help you make your big ideas work. And we're lending that money at very competitive rates.

We don't just lend you money.
We lend you a home improvement consultant, too.

If you think your home is a candidate for some energy-saving improvements, just give us a call at Fairhaven Savings or the Dartmouth Banking Center. We'll send out a home improvement consultant at no obligation. He'll take a quick tour of your home and let you know all the ways you can save money. All the leaky windows that need fixing. Walls and ceilings that need more insulation. The doors that could use weatherstripping. And so on. He'll not only tell you where you can save money, but how much you can save, too.

The cost of heat is going up and up.
Waiting just costs you money.

The cost of heat and electricity went up 30% this year. It may go up even more next year. So every little leak in a window, every little crack in a door costs you more money every day.

So why not talk to our home improvement consultant.

He'll show you how a little money today can save you a lot of money tomorrow. And the next day. And the next day.

Many organizations and individuals had a part in the success of the banquet. Special thanks goes to Senator William MacLean, Jr. who provided monogrammed hooded sweaters for all of the varsity players and their manager, Jay Henderson. Senator MacLean also contributed two tickets for a Boston Celtics playoff game which enabled us to conduct a successful raffle that covered some of our expenses. The winner of the raffle was Merritt LaPlante of Mattapoisett.

We also received a great deal of help from Representative Walter Silveira, Jr. who was happy to support our efforts to provide an evening of entertainment at the Country Club of New Bedford for the players, their parents and friends. His help is also appreciated.

We are also deeply grateful to area businesses who willingly supported our efforts. To the Plymouth Savings Bank, the Plymouth-Home National Bank, Seaport Pharmacy, Dick Mello's Hearthside Photography, Terry McGrath's Sportabout Sport-file tickets and who were supportive of our efforts. We were happy to see many parents at the banquet which is indicative of the support that the team received all year long from many persons. The coaches, Mr. Shockro, Mr. Bobola and Mr. Eddy made the evening presentations enjoyable. Mr. Roberts was most helpful in serving as master of ceremonies for the evening and Millie Barros was most helpful to the players in securing some of the gifts for the coaches.

To all who contributed in any way, it was appreciated.

Prayer of The Holy Spirit

Holy Spirit, You enlighten me in every way. You eliminate all earthly paths so that all my dreams may come true. You give me the Divine quality to forgive and forget. You accompany me every step of my life. Thank You again.

One must recite this asking for nothing. Within three days the person will be granted the wish no matter how incredible it may seem. Publication promised.

at 8:00 p.m. in the Whaling Museum Theater, 18 Johnny Cake Hill, New Bedford. The subject of Dr. Henderson's talk will be "The Whaleman's Coast of California".

Recently retired as Professor of Geography at California State University, Northridge, Dr. Henderson is the author of Men & Whales at Scammon's Lagoon and Journal of the Ocean Bird. A recognized authority on the history of the gray whaling industry, Dr. Henderson co-authored a geography/history book, titled "Six Faces of Mexico", and has written extensively on the geography of Baja, California.

Dr. Henderson will examine the seemingly desolate land along the coast of lower or Spanish-Mexican California. This rugged area with its sparse population was surprisingly hospitable to the nineteenth-century whaler from New England.

Camping on U.S.S. Mass.

Over 9,000 boy scouts, girl scouts and members of other youth groups have spent a weekend aboard the USS Massachusetts this school year, according to Ernie Gifford, Education Coordinator at Battleship Cove. The number of campers participating in the battleship's Overnight Camping Program is expected to reach over 9,500 by the end of June - up from 8,008 scouts last year.

The camping program runs in the off-season tourist months (September-June) and will take in $171,000 this year, with $51,300 of that amount going into the ship's operating and maintenance fund, the rest going to defray costs of the program itself.

Under the program, up to 300 campers at one time spend a weekend or part of their school vacation aboard the 680' long battleship, sleeping in bunkrooms once used by the ship's crew and eating meals, served chow-line style, in the former Officers' Ward Room.

"It's a completely different camping experience," says Vaitses, "and one that is very nostalgic for parents who have been in the service."

The scout troops typically arrive after lunch on Saturday in time to visit the Marine Museum nearby for a slide/lecture and tour of the museum's collection of sail and steamship travel. WE'LL DO ANY KIND OF GARDENING OR LIGHT YARD WORK. BY THE CONTRACT OR BY THE HOUR.

there is an evening program consisting of movies (usually on some aspect of Naval History) followed by an informal question and answer period about the battleship itself, conducted by members of the Battleship Cove staff.

Since there are usually several groups on board the battleship at any one time, the evening program also gives the scouts a chance to get acquainted with each other.

Wake-up is at 7 a.m. the next morning, followed by breakfast at 7:30. The scouts take a tour of the PT Boat Museum as well as a complete guided tour of the battleship itself, using the By-Word audio system ear wands.

Lunch in the Ward Room or a box lunch is provided.

The cost for each participant covers the overnight, three meals and all admissions.

The Overnight Camping Program was an idea Vaitses first had in 1965, shortly after moving into the captain's quarters aboard the battleship as the attraction's director.

The program has grown from about 200 scouts to virtually "sell-out" capacity, largely through word of mouth, says

No groups are taken during July and August, when the battleship is visited by over 1,000 tourists a day. Besides, the bunkrooms get a little hot in the summer. "Like being in the Pacific," says Vaitses, who knows first hand from having served aboard "Big Mamie" during World War Two.

Battleship Cove is a non-profit educational organization. The ship's exhibit is open every day of the year except Thanksgiving and Christmas. Group rates are available.

Announcement

After 36 years of business in Mattapoisett and surrounding towns, it is my greatest pleasure to announce that my son, Charles H. Duponte, will join the family business of landscaping.

Charles returns here from Canada to continue the gardening business started by his grandfather in Nantucket in the early 1900's. Besides teaching school in Toronto, Charles had his own Terra Nova Designs Landscape Construction Company. He hopes to continue serving our regular and faithful customers and to make new friends in this area.

Tobey Hospital

NATIONAL HOSPITAL WEEK

"Looking Well into the Future" will be the theme of Tobey Hospital's celebration of National Hospital Week, May 10-16.

"We think that our 1981 National Hospital Week theme fittingly describes the commitment of our hospital staff to improving the future health of our community," said John A. Kelenosy, Assistant Administrator, hospital spokesman. "We devote our fullest resources to providing the best health care possible today. But we know that we have to look to the future to find even better ways to care as patients' and the community's needs change," he said.

Some of the ways Tobey Hospital is caring for the community's future is in continuing recruitment of medical doctors representing various specialties, on-going education of the medical staff, nursing staff and technical personnel as well as administrative employees, cost containment, classes for mothers and fathers, keeping abreast of high technology, the addition of a new Ultrasound Department, new equipment in the Laboratory, the updating of equipment in other departments and the continuing pursuit of the highest standards possible in the delivery of medical care to its patients. Tobey Hospital wants you to know that it is working hard to build a healthier future for you, your family, and our community.

During the week, students from Old Rochester Regional High School and Wareham High School will be the guests of the technical and administrative department heads who will be members of a panel discussing medical careers of the future.

On Thursday, May 14, students from the Sippican School in Marion will be the guests of the Pediatrics Department and ancillary services. On Friday, a panel of staff and employees with artistic backgrounds will pick the winner and runner-up of the poster contest sponsored by the hospital for grades one through six in the various towns. The contest winners will be given prizes to climax the contest. The winner will have his/her poster framed and hung in the Pediatric Ward.
